colleges have agreed to present mini-sessions on this day also.

The Princeton Review session on the new SAT was well attended. They are interested in offering paid sessions to prepare students for the test.

David Abler reported on proposed changes to the science core program. He noted key issues raised by the review committee. They are:

- instructors teaching out of their area of expertise
- the need to examine the records of incoming sophomores in regard to science achievement for placement purposes
- the need to actively promote an understanding of inquiry and the nature of scientific endeavor.
The science team has made a proposal for revisions to the program to address these issues. A decision will be made next week if the proposal will move forward. If the proposal is developed further, it will be implemented for second semester scheduling next year.

Student Council Report

Student Life

- Parent Partners – This effort is going well with many parents involved and a lot of activities in the wings.
- Nutrition Committee – This committee is currently reviewing contracts and expects to accept a bid early next year. Students suggested that food content/nutritional value be posted in the cafeteria and Arbor has complied.
- Senior Banquet – Jan Sharpless reminded parents to send in senior photos.
- Finals Fest – December 17. Parent volunteers for set-up and clean-up are needed, as well as food donations. Food can be dropped off at the front desk.
- Superbowl Fest-February 6. Parent volunteers needed.

Old Business

Bylaws Update
Lorna asked that everyone review their individual sections and make recommendations for changes. This includes identifying items in the procedural guidelines that should be moved to the bylaws. Everyone's input is due by the February PAC meeting. Region reps are to give updates to the metro or downstate coordinator, committee chairs and exec. board updates go to the co-secretaries. Amendments will be proposed for a vote in the spring. Both the procedural guidelines and the bylaws are on the PAC website.
